

EAST END COMMUNITY SERVICES' PRIVACY POLICY

East End Community Services is very committed to protecting the privacy of those who use this website. If you decide to send us personally identifying information, such as an e-mail, we keep that information confidential when we receive it. However, email is not encrypted or protected and can be intercepted by other individuals as it is transferred over the Internet.

We do not sell or distribute any information about individuals or donors to other organizations. Our online giving is through a third party entity, JustGive.org, that processes the donation and uses a secure site to process individual information such as name, email, credit card data, address, etc. This organization is affiliated with national nonprofits and can offer a higher level of security to donors than our agency would be able to offer by itself.

East End Community Services does publish names and gift levels as a way of publicly thanking its donors. Corporate gifts will be omitted from such lists if the Chief Executive Officer, or equivalent, requests that the gift be anonymous. Individual donors can also be listed as anonymous if you inform us in writing.

East End Community Services does send donors, volunteers and other persons newsletters, either mailed or electronic, annual reports or other mailings to let you know how your donation or time is being put to use. If you wish to be removed from such mailing lists or would like to make a specific request about mailing, please notify the following individual.
